SEARCH CONTINUED FOR MISSING MONEY SACKS

Estimate Money Missing at $65,000 to $80,000—Rumor of An Accomplice

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Camp Funston, Kan., Jan. 14.—

Search for the canvass sacks containing the money Captain Lewis R. Whisler is supposed to have obtained when he robbed the army bank here Friday night and killed four men with an axe and seriously wounded a fifth, continued today with the authorities working upon the theory that the army officer, who killed himself with an army rifle a few hours after the murders were discovered, may have had an accomplice who fled from the camp in a motor car after the money had been entrusted to him.

Just how much Captain Whisler obtained was still a matter of conjecture early today and it was said by officials that it might be several days before the exact amount could be determined. Estimates of the missing money varied from $65,000 to $80,000.

Kearney Wornall, of Kansas City, cashier of the bank, who was the only survivor of the tragedy continued to improve today and it was believed by the attending physicians that he was recovering from the danger. Wornall identified the body of the dead army officer as the man who robbed the bank and committed the murders.

The camp today was rapidly returning to normal.

Captain Whisler killed himself by firing two bullets from an army rifle into his head. His death came after Wornall had recovered consciousness at the base hospital and told the questioning army officers the story of the tragedy, in which the captain had killed with an ax four men, including C. Fuller Whisler, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, an intimate friend of the captain. Then an order was issued that all captains at the cantonment report at headquarters to have their fingers printed. It was then that the shots from Captain Whisler's office were heard.

A note was found with the body. It was written to a woman, whose name the authorities have refused to divulge. It said:

"I have been thinking of committing suicide for a long time, but I have never had a good reason. Yesterday I went out and made myself a reason."

The room in which Captain Whisler's body was found, was smeared with blood spots. Two blood-soaked towels were found in the room and the table was spotted with it.

Captain Whisler had borrowed two hatchets from a supply company yesterday, according to officials and he borrowed two more today.

Wornall, in describing the tragedy, said a man came to the door of the bank about 8:30 Friday night and rapped insistently. He was admitted and, covering the five men with his revolver, forced Wornall to tie the hands of the four men, after which he tied Wornall's hands. The man then proceeded to loot the bank safe and had reached the door when Wornall said to Wornall: "You recognize him, don't you?" Wornall answered that he did.

The murderer turned to Wornall and said:

"You know me, do you?"

"I sure do, you black scoundrel," was Wornall's reply.

Wornall says at this point the man hesitated and then suddenly leaped at him, swinging his hand ax. He struck the helpless men down, one by one. Wornall was the last to be killed.

BETTER THAN MONEY

A War Savings Stamp costing $4.12 if bought before February 1st, is better than money for these reasons: First—It is not taxable. Second—It may be registered without charge against loss. Third—It draws four per cent interest, the payment of both principal and interest being guaranteed by the United States. Fourth—It may be converted into money, plus three per cent interest, at any time by giving the government ten days' notice. Aside from these valuable features, it should be remembered that in buying War Savings Stamps you are helping your government to win the war and further that in buying Thrift and War Savings Stamps you are cultivating the savings habit, which is invaluable. The war is costing a million dollars an hour but if everybody in this country would buy one 25c Thrift Stamp every day it would furnish the government with enough money to finance the war. Lacking country people are asked to buy $1,236,180 worth of War Savings Stamps this year. That is $20 per capita. Begin now.

DISSATISFACTION IN PETROGRAD WITH TROTSKY'S CONDUCT IN NEGOTIATIONS

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)

Russo-German negotiations at Brest-Litovsk apparently again have been broken off temporarily and the possibility of a final breach is not unlooked for in Petrograd. The armistice on the eastern front has been extended until Feb. 18, while it is expected that the conference will be resumed at Warsaw.

Nikolai Lenin, the Bolshevik premier, is again back in Petrograd and is reported to be taking a more important part in the negotiations. There is some dissatisfaction in Petrograd with the way in which Foreign Minister Trotsky has conducted negotiations. Trotsky's campaign of propaganda among the German soldiers is said to be growing in effect and the German military authorities are doing all in their power to check it.

Meanwhile German political and military leaders have been having hurried conferences in Berlin. The crown prince has returned to the German capital and he, with Field Marshal von Hindenburg, General von Ludendorff and Chancellor von Hertling, have conferred with the emperor.

The call by the emperor of the assistant to the German foreign secretary at the Brest-Litovsk meeting indicates that the conferences may have to do with the peace negotiations, the conduct of which has caused much political trouble in Germany during the past two weeks.

Chancellor von Hertling is expected to address the main committee of the reichstag on Wednesday and probably will answer the recent war aim statement of President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George.

The basis of the Don river has been cleared of Cosack troops by Bolshevik soldiers according to an official announcement. The Bolshevik soldiers according to an official announcement. The Bolshevik soldiers are also said to have taken Ekaterinoslavl, a stronghold of the Ukraine. Russian sailors in Sebastopol are reported to have killed and lynched more than sixty-two of their officers, including four admirals. The town of Kilia has been looted by Russian soldiers, who set fire to buildings after robbing houses and shops, causing the population to flee in terror.

David R. Francis, the American ambassador to Russia, in a new year's message to the Russian people reminds them that a separate peace with Germany would rob them of the results of the revolution. President Wilson's message is greeted with divided opinion by the leading Bolshevik newspapers.

Ambassador Francis says the message is the best greeting he can give Russia from America.

Patrol encounters at several points and artillery activity in the Ypres-Arras area is reported from the British front. North of the Aisne, on the French front, the artillery fire has been violent. Engagements between patrols in the mountain zone and artillery fire along the Piave marks the situation on the Italian front.

RELIEF COMES WITH RISING TEMPERATURE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cleveland, Jan. 14.—A rising thermometer this morning gave Cleveland relief from the record breaking zero weather of the past two days.

At 9 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 15 degrees above zero, as against the low record of 12 degrees below zero on Saturday night.

The rising temperature brought relief to the railroad situation. Trains on all lines entering the city that had been running from ten to twenty hours behind time, had almost regained their normal schedules this morning.

FIRE DESTROYS ARMY SUPPLIES AT WASHINGTON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 14.—A quantity of army supplies, including $1,000,000 worth of food was destroyed, the quartermaster warehouse ruined, and several other buildings damaged by a fire today at the Washington barracks occupied by engineer troops.

A large part of the city's fire apparatus was called upon to fight the flames which were given impetus by the explosion of a quantity of gasoline stored in one part of the big warehouse. After a hard fight of an hour and a half the fire was extinguished.

An ordnance building containing a quantity of small arms and ammunition was endangered, but soldiers removed what was stored there. The origin of the fire has not been disclosed by officials at the post. A limited quantity of clothing and shoes was destroyed.

HUNDREDS OF SHIPS ARE ARMED AGAINST ATTACKS OF SUBS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 14.—Eleven hundred ships have been armed by the navy against submarine attack since last March, it was revealed today in the report of the house naval investigating subcommittee. The statement summarizes results of the committee's inquiry in the work of the ordnance bureau of the navy. It was issued by its chairman, Representative Oliver of Alabama.

The committee says the report is impressed with the war time efficiency of the bureau which has not only responded promptly to all demands for ordnance of standard types but has found time to develop new material such as improved depth charges, smoke screen apparatus and heavier gun equipment for aircraft.

AMERICAN SHIP SINKS AT SEA IN COLLISION

Believed That Crew of 43
Have Been Taken Off
In Life Boats

BOUND FOR FRENCH PORT
WITH CARGO OF NITRATES

Last Wireless From Doomed
Vessel, "Good Bye,
No More"

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

An Atlantic Port, Jan. 14.—

Agents of the American steamship, Texan, a vessel of 14,000 tons, today received advices from naval authorities that she was sinking at sea. The location of the ship was not given.

The naval authorities did not state the cause of the Texan's distress, but reports reaching shipping circles here from other sources were that the vessel had been rammed amidships in collision with another vessel.

It was said a steamer which had picked up the Texan's "S. O. S." calls was hurrying to her assistance and that the crew of 43 had taken to the boats.

The Texan left here recently with a cargo of nitrates bound for a French port, agents of the vessel stated.

Messages reaching here from another port said that a steamer arriving there today reported that at 4 a. m. she picked up an "S. O. S." from the Texan reporting that she had been struck amidships and was sinking. The last message from the Texan said: "Goodbye; no more." The messages did not give the location of the ship, nor did they say how she was damaged.

There were 43 men aboard. The Texan's wireless operator reported that the starboard boats had been lowered; that the aftboat was lost, and that an attempt was being made to lower the forward boat. Oil from the ship's hold was poured on the starboard side in an effort to make sea conditions better for launching the lifeboats.

It was impossible, it was said here, to ascertain how the Texan had been struck, as there apparently was no message from a vessel with which she might have been in collision.

In the absence of definite word regarding the accident shipping men expressed the opinion that the Texan may have encountered an iceberg. Efforts were made by government radio stations to communicate with ships with which the Texan might have been in collision. The fact that the Texan apparently was sinking soon after being rammed, without word as to assistance by another vessel, was noted.

AMERICAN OFFICER WOUNDED AT CAMBRAI RECOVERING IN HOSPITAL

The first photograph of the American officer wounded in the recent encounter of American engineers with a German raiding party shows him well on the way to recovery in a London hospital. Lieut. Delsey and his men were at work close behind an advancing line in a recent drive against Cambrai. Lieut. Delsey was hit by a German "whizz bang" during the attack.

HEAR PERIGORD TONIGHT

Hear Lieut. Paul Perigord, brilliant French officer and student, at the Newark High School Auditorium at 8.00 o'clock tonight. He has seen active service in the war and left the trenches only a few weeks ago. A guest of the United States government he is traveling over the country telling of his experiences at the front. Admission is free. Tonight's lecture is given under auspices of the Newark Rotary club.

ARMISTICE HAS BEEN EXTENDED AND PEACE CONFERENCE MAY BE RESUMED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, Jan. 14.—Warning of the possibility of a final breach in the Russo-German negotiations is the outstanding feature of the current news from Petrograd. In the meantime, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail in the Russian capital, the armistice had been extended until February 18 and the Russian delegation returns to Petrograd tomorrow, but the peace negotiations will be resumed after an interval at Warsaw.

Premier Lenin has returned to Petrograd and is reported to be taking an important part in guiding the negotiations with the central powers, although avoiding the limelight. The correspondent of the Daily Mail says that some extremists are dissatisfied with Foreign Minister Trotsky's conduct of negotiations, thinking he is too willing to meet the German views and they suggest that Lenin take his place at future conferences.

The Petrograd correspondent of the Daily News reports that the Germans are doing their utmost to stop fraternization at the front. He interprets this to mean that the Bolshevik propaganda is having its effect among the German soldiers. The Germans confiscated all copies of the Fackel, a Russian newspaper printed in Germany, containing a full account of the Brest-Litovsk negotiations and other propaganda literature. Notwithstanding this, he adds, the German soldiers crawl across the Russian lines every night and obtain copies of the paper secretly.

A dispatch to the Times from Odessa describes disorders at Sebastopol in which six-two naval officers were killed as two days of butchery in which the horrors of Kronstadt were re-enacted. It is added that most of those killed were members of the committee which in 1912 under the old regime held an inquiry into the rebellious sailors' revolutionary union which resulted in the execution of many sailors and the exile of many others. The affair, apparently forgotten, has now been brought up against those responsible who were regarded as meriting death. It is reported in Odessa that the number of officers killed is greater.

The town of Kilia at the mouth of the Danube, which has been called the Russian Venice, another dispatch to the Times says was looted during the Christmas holidays by soldiers stationed there assisted by hoodlums. Much of the town was burned, the rioters firing the buildings after the houses and shops were sacked. The work was done systematically, showing that preparation had been made before hand.

The population fled in terror. Some crossed into Rumania, while others scattered into the surrounding country where they are destitute. Still others came to Odessa by steamer. The perpetrators of the outrage also came to Odessa, where they were allowed to make trains north without being molested.

The superior Council of National Commissaries, according to a Rostov dispatch from Petrograd, has drafted a decree declaring null and void all national loans issued by the imperial and Bourgeois (Levoff-Kerensky) governments. All domestic loans held by foreigners are to be annulled without reservation. The only loans to be declared valid are short term loans and the series of the national treasury.

DIGGING CITY OUT OF DRIFTS IS PROGRESSING

Army of Over 100,000 Attack Huge Mountains of Snow at Chicago

ALARMING FUEL AND MILK
SHORTAGE IS REPORTED

Trains Due Friday Began to Arrive Today—Cattle
Perish In Cars

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Chicago, Jan. 14.—An army of workers estimated at more than 100,000, including 60,000 school boys, today resumed the attack on the great snow drifts which for 48 hours tied up railroad traffic in this city and vicinity and caused what the health authorities termed an alarming shortage of fuel and milk.

As an emergency measure the public schools of the city did not open today, the board of education having decided that boys could render valuable service in clearing away the snow from the streets so that vehicles would be able to make deliveries in the residential districts.

Every one of the twenty-seven steam railroads entering Chicago resumed limited service today, but officials said it would be at least two days before anything like normal passenger schedules could be established, and perhaps a week would elapse before movement of freight trains could be put back on the same basis as before the storm.

Every ton of coal in the railroad yards was commandeered by the county fuel administrator, Raymond E. Durham, and others were given to the railroads to deliver coal on the tracks to the most available yard or team track.

The Union Stock Yards today began to emerge from the huge piles of snow that covered the pens and the switching tracks within the Stock Yards area. Stock trains started unloading with a semblance of usual activity, but numbers of cattle and hogs were frozen in the pens.

Thousands of suburban motorists were compelled to spend another night in hotels because of the abandonment of suburban train service. Many of the large central hotels reported that it had turned away many, while outlying hotels available to the elevated lines were reported to be filled to capacity.

As showing the severity of the blizzard railroad officials pointed out that a number of passenger trains due here last Friday night did not arrive until this morning.

Every effort would be made, railroad managers said, to rush through coal and milk trains today.

The huge packing plants of Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. were shut down today because of the inability to get coal. The employees were set to work clearing railroad tracks of snow. Hundreds of cattle and hogs are reported to have perished on stock cars because railroads were unable to move them.

SENATOR'S BODY TO BE CREMATED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 14.—Adjournment of the senate and half-masting of capitol flags were honors paid today to Senator Brady of Idaho, who died of heart trouble last night. Funeral arrangements will be made on the arrival of the senator's two sons, who have been stormbound in the midwest while hurrying to Washington.

Senator Brady's body will be cremated here, probably after services Wednesday, and the ashes taken later to his former home at Pocatello, Idaho.

TWO CENT FARE WILL PREVAIL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 14.—The Illinois Central railroad and 28 other roads, by an opinion of the supreme court today, lost their fight to have the Illinois two-cent passenger law set aside.

Federal decrees dismissing proceedings instituted by the Illinois Central to restrain the Illinois public utilities commission from placing into effect the two-cent rate were sustained.

MAY REQUISITION VESSELS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Jan. 14.—Requisitioning of all American sailing vessels was forecast today when the shipping board requested the department of commerce to report the location of such vessels. Secretary Redfield replied that 175 sailing vessels with a carrying capacity of 125,000 tons now are within or adjacent to American territorial waters.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cincinnati, Jan. 14.—Schools housing 17,000 pupils were closed here today owing to lack of coal to heat the buildings, while orders were issued closing down schools housing 8,000 additional children tomorrow, thus giving 25,000 school children enforced vacations tomorrow.

COAL SHORTAGE AT CLEVELAND

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cleveland, Jan. 14.—Several thousand men were out of work, hundreds of industrial plants and stores were without light and motive power and fifteen thousand homes were deprived of light power today when three substations of the Municipal Electric Lighting plant turned off the electric current, because of the coal shortage.

TRAINS RESUMING THEIR SCHEDULES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Jan. 14.—Transportation facilities here began to get back to normal today following the breaking of the storm and blizzard which paralyzed railroad traffic Saturday and Sunday and resulted in the annulling of trains. Trains on some of the lines were reported to be running late but it was said that the railroads expected to be back on their regular schedules before the day was over.

American officers completing their training "somewhere on the western front" (above) and one of the many American airmen built by American workmen that are springing up in France. That every branch of the American army is rapidly establishing on the western front is seen in recent photographs from France. American officers recently arrived abroad are already well trained in the camps on the western fronts within sound of the German guns and most of them are fit for immediate service. The airmen that will house the great army of American fliers soon to be on active service are building all along the western fronts and the materials as well as all the workmen are American. Each hangar of the type shown in the photograph will be a resting place for from 12 to 16 airplanes.

Give The Stomach A Chance To Work

We can't expect the stomach to act normally if the natural avenues of elimination are blocked so it cannot dispose of its refuse. When the bowels are constipated the stomach is called upon for work beyond its capacity and the result is bloating, belching, headache, and discomfort generally, unless the condition is promptly relieved, serious illness.

An effective remedy for constipation is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts on the bowels in a gentle, natural manner, without griping or other pain or discomfort, affording speedy relief. Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and have it in the house when you need it; it costs only fifty cents and is the ideal family remedy, said enough for children and old people, yet sufficiently powerful for the strongest constipation. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. J. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

STORM KING HELD UNDISPUTED SWAY FOR MANY HOURS

Newark with the rest of the central and eastern part of the United States was storm bound on Saturday all day and not until the gale which had blown furiously from late Friday night, commenced to abate on Saturday afternoon, was an effort made to establish normal conditions. With all the large cities cancelling and annulling trains several were taken off after they had reached Newark. The Ohio Electric railway company was more fortunate than the steam roads, as they never missed a train Saturday although they were running from 30 minutes to an hour behind schedule on the interurban lines. In the city from Saturday morning until Saturday noon, schedules were abandoned. The ice on the tracks made it impossible for the lighter cars to pull their way through, and many trips were made only through the efforts of the crews who would labor with shovel and broom for a short way and then run the car along a bit further when the shovel would again be put in operation.

The taxicab companies of the city had the biggest days business in their history. On Saturday evening during the supper hour, the telephone companies' capacity for caring for calls was taxed and 9 out of every 10 calls were for a taxicab. In some taxicab offices people were waiting their turns for as far ahead as an hour and a half.

Both telephones experienced trouble, but the inconvenience was slight compared with the general storm havoc.

In the churches where services were held Sunday, some of the buildings were without heat. The heavy wind reduced the heat obtained from the gas to the minimum, and not until Sunday evening when the wind abated was it possible to heat homes or buildings.

From Saturday noon 11 children were taken into the Children's Home. Eight of them were the children of Mrs. Louis Bieber, and were brought in by the juvenile officers from Mt. Vernon. The Bieber case has been in and out of the courts for some time, it being charged that Mrs. Bieber has on different occasions left her husband and the last time she deserted him she took the eight children with her. Three other children, whose parents are ill and destitute were taken to the home. The little ones were crying with the cold and suffering from hunger.

Saturday evening a number of stores in the downtown business section closed and but little business was transacted in any after 6 o'clock. From that hour on until morning a blizzard raged, making it dangerous to be out upon the streets. The movie theatres Saturday evening did but little business and in most instances threw open their doors to the public to furnish heat and for storm bound pedestrians.

The mails are moving today and the carriers have resumed their routes after being forced out of business for the first time on Saturday, when the carriers were forced to abandon their routes. However four of the employees are still absent from the local department on account of illness, James Williams and Henry Kuppinger, carriers, are both ill, the latter recovering slowly from a serious illness. Bert Painter, clerk, is off on account of illness, and Mrs. May Coulter, clerk, is convalescing slowly from pneumonia.

The fire department had but one call since Saturday and that came at 4 o'clock Monday morning.

As the temperature continued to moderate today, business and traffic became normal.

The auto delivery truck belonging to the Sweet Home Bakery was overturned by the wind Saturday at the corner of Fifth and Main street scattering pies, cakes and bread over the street. The driver was thrown from the wagon but escaped injury.

Traffic on the steam roads was almost demoralized and reports came into the local offices of engineers being frozen to the tracks and unable to move. Railroad men came in with frosted faces, fingers and noses.

Pennsylvania trains that did arrive were anywhere from six to 24 hours late, and a number were annulled. They came creeping into the depot yesterday with no attempt at preserving a schedule. Several stalled along the right-of-way and were helped out of their dilemma by assistance sent from Columbus and Dennison.

The Cincinnati train on the Baltimore & Ohio, leaving Saturday night at 8:30, managed to reach Newark Sunday morning at 10:30, and was sent on through to Pittsburgh. A second train arrived from Cincinnati last evening. The Pittsburgh train also arrived last evening and was sent on to Cincinnati. There were two trains over the Lake Erie division yesterday—one from Sandusky and one for Sandusky. Freight traffic was almost at a standstill, although a few trains were moving. There were no trains over the Central Ohio and Lake Erie division, and only a number over the main lines and quite a number were forced to abandon attempts to reach division points.

A number of local railroad men with road foreman of engines, Harry Wildman, were kept busy Saturday night and Sunday on calls along the line to help start the steam monsters stalled on account of the cold weather.

The connection of mail at the Baltimore & Ohio station has been relieved and had been sent out this morning. It would be well, however, for local manufacturers and business men to send out only that which is necessary until conditions become normal again.

SUPREME COURT CHARGES JUDGE WITH CONTEMPT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Jan. 24.—Contempt proceedings were instituted in the supreme court today against Federal Judge John M. Killits, of the district court for northern Ohio, by Attorney General Gregory, charging Judge Killits with suspending execution of judgment indefinitely against a bank embezzler in violation of the supreme court's specific order.

Judge Killits suspended execution of an imprisonment sentence against James J. Hanahan, who pleaded guilty in 1915. Subsequently the supreme court, on application of Attorney General Gregory, issued an order holding Judge Killits had usurped the pardoning power reserved only in the president, or ordered the writ suspending execution against Hanahan set aside.

16 DRIVERS IN STORM ON WAY FROM DETROIT

Sixteen automobiles with as many drivers are battling their way to Newark from Detroit in the big storm. On Friday morning sixteen drivers with machines for the Spillman garage in this city left Detroit on their way to Newark. In good weather the trip has been made in a day, but inquiry at the Spillman garage developed the fact that it would probably be a week before they reached Newark this time.

A message received last night states the men and machines were thirty-eight miles out of Detroit. They have encountered all the bad weather that has tied up the country. Among the drivers are J. D. Spillman, Harry Horcher, Ray Hildreth, Ray Sutton, H. R. Lees, C. J. Mayberry, Harry Bittle, C. C. Conway, Verne Prince, Dan Coffman, Carl Swartz, Ralph Davis, Ray Horcher, T. C. Jury and two others.

BANK ROBBER AND MURDERER ENDS HIS LIFE

last struck. When he recovered consciousness he managed to untie his hands and made his way into the open air, where he was discovered by a sentry.

Relatives and friends of Captain Whisler are unable to advance any theory as to what impelled him to commit the murders and robbery. Captain Whisler's former wife, from whom he was divorced about a year ago, and a son, 14 years old, reside in Salina, Kan. His parents live at Goodland, Kan.

Captain Whisler fought in the Spanish-American war and later saw considerable service in the Philippines. During the Mexican border trouble he attempted to form a regiment in Kansas, but the play was not carried out. When the war with Germany came he entered the officers' training camp at Fort Riley, Kan., and was commissioned captain. He was about 40 years old.

Mrs. Whisler received a letter from her former husband Saturday, in which he said he was in good health and spirits. The letter, she thought, was written Friday, although it was not dated.

TWELVE KILLED IN TEXAS WRECK, NINE INJURED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Houston, Tex., Jan. 14.—Twelve to 17 persons, all white, were killed, and nine injured early today as the result of the derailment of the northbound Houston & Texas Central passenger train, which left here for Dallas late Sunday.

The accident occurred at Hammond switch, six miles south of Bremond at 3:25 a. m. Two steel coaches, directly behind the mailcar, were crumpled into shapeless masses of wreckage, and it was the passengers aboard these who made up the toll of casualties. Rescuers worked in the dark with torches, placing the nine reported injured aboard an express car which was immediately started for Waco.

The train was No. 17, known as the "Owl," and left here at 11:30 last night. The wreck occurred when the head-end coach split a switch, after the locomotive, tender and baggage car and mail car had passed safely. Several cars were overturned.

CAMPAIGN TO SELL INSURANCE TO THE NEW ARMY SELECTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Jan. 14.—Under the supervision of the war risk bureau a campaign is to be waged here beginning the coming week to sell the government insurance to every select in Camp who has not purchased it. The work will be under the immediate charge of Captain Emmet C. Peebles, former Cincinnati insurance man and will be in conjunction with similar drives being made in all of the other cantonments in the country.

According to Captain Peebles Camp Sherman's sale of insurance totals upwards of $175,000,000 so far and it will be the aim of the "big push" to boost the total many millions of dollars higher. Most of the men who have purchased the insurance so far have taken the maximum of $10,000 which the law allows, it is said.

Every select in the camp who has not purchased the protection will be approached by personal workers who will present the insurance as an opportunity and not as something compulsory, according to Captain Peebles who has had 30,000 booklets printed telling of the insurance. The campaign will close February 12 and weekly reports are to be made from each camp until the drive ends.

In order to get around the order which practically quarantines the entire Eighty-Third division a detention school is to be established under the command of First Lieutenant Adam R. Wachs in the next few days. Men will be sent to the camp for the period of two weeks duration during which time they will be under observation. At the end of the period, if they have not developed any disease, they will be sent to the other camps.

Approximately one hundred and fifty men who have been ordered transferred to aviation and other special branches are affected by the ruling. Including among them are fifty men who have been chosen as interpreters for the American forces already overseas. As soon as they are released from the detention camp they will be ready to be sent to General Pershing's forces.

Amateur photographers have no place at Camp Sherman. A memorandum published at division headquarters today provides that no one shall take photographs within the cantonment without having first obtained a special permit from division headquarters. Guards will investigate the taking of any pictures and will make arrests where their orders are disobeyed.

Dental students who were in the first, second, third or fourth year of schooling for their profession when they were drafted, will be discharged from the division and will be returned to their schools where they will be required to enlist in the dental reserve, returning to the service at the conclusion of their courses, according to a memorandum today.

Too much ice forced the artillery men from the 322nd artillery to postpone the initiation of the division's new artillery range which had long been planned for today. The range is located eleven miles southeast of camp and the road leading to it is so narrow that but one vehicle can use it at a time, according to officers. Colonel Ashburn in command of the artillery, who has the firing under his charge deemed it wise early this morning to put off the attempt several days. He said the road was in such condition as to make it impossible to even get the guns to the range, much less to fire them.

vessel in saving the crew, made the accident puzzling, naval authorities said.

A government radio station picked up a message later from the steamer Williamette, sent to an unidentified ship, saying:

"Will you escort me back to—?"
The answer was not intelligible. Naval authorities who got the message said they were unable to determine whether the Williamette had been in collision with the Texan or had been damaged by the same agency that sent the Texan to the bottom. Nothing more had been heard from the Texan at noon.

Fragmentary wireless messages suggest that the damaged steamers belonged to a fleet passing north. That none of the messages indicated what had struck them aroused some concern as to the actual cause of their trouble.

The Texan is commanded by Captain G. B. Knight. She was requisitioned by the government from the American Hawaiian line, for which she was built in 1902. She measures 8615 gross tonnage, 14,000 tons dead weight.

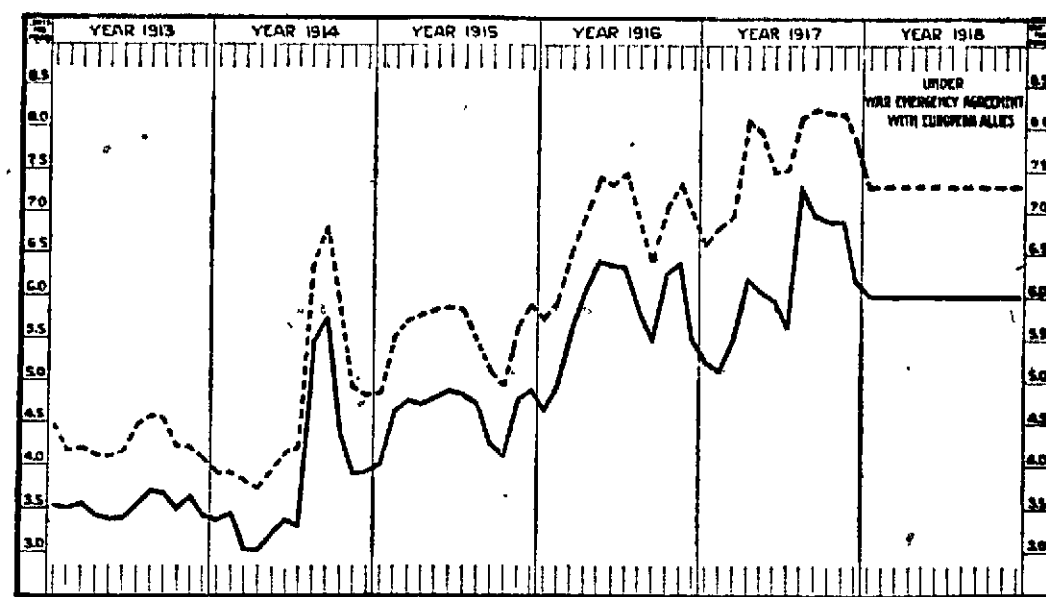

AWAIT OFFICIAL REPORT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Jan. 14.—Indirect information reaching the navy department said the Texan had been in collision with another ship, which has gone to the rescue of the Texan's crew. As far as is known, no lives were lost in the collision. An official report on the accident is expected at the navy department.

TRAWLER LOST; CREW SAVED.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Jan. 14.—An American trawler operating in European waters has been lost. Admiral Sims reported the sinking of the little vessel to the navy department today. All members of the crew were saved. The trawler was lost, by striking a rock.

Why You Are Not Paying 30 Cents for Sugar

In April 1917 the cables told of a plan proposed by Herbert C. Hoover, then in London, which he described as "a plan by which the Allies can consolidate under one head the whole purchasing of food staples from our market, and not only will competitive bidding be abolished, but by co-operative buying on our side we can arrange the proper balance between the rights of producers and consumers."

This plan was favorably received by the sugar refining industry, which had been on a war basis almost from the beginning of the European War.

The war had brought the Allies into the Cuban market, resulting in severe domestic and international competition with no increased supplies. Naturally prices of refined sugar, both to the American public and to the Allies, rose under this forced draft.

Domestic sugar refiners, since the outbreak of the European War not only have safeguarded the United States supply but have maintained the lowest sugar prices in the world.

This brilliant record is due largely to the fact that sugar refining is in the hands of large business units, with an excess of refining capacity sufficient to supply all domestic needs, and so far all demands of foreign countries.

In the spring of 1917 there was a serious attempt at the disorganization of the sugar refining industry, following a long series of attempts at destruction of sugar ships.

Accompanying these incidents were widely circulated sensational reports predicting a sugar famine and sugar shortage, causing widespread apprehension.

At that time, even with the assurance of ample supplies on hand, retail sugar prices rose in some sections to 20 and 25 cents a pound.

The efforts of the American Sugar Refining Company to allay public alarm, to check hoarding, to accept a price less than that which it could easily have secured, and to distribute its product fairly and evenly among the trade, were of real public service.

While there were great supplies of sugar in far-away Java which ordinarily would have gone to Europe, yet the necessity for saving ships became so great that Europe turned to Cuba for even larger supplies than previously.

It takes a cargo ship 150 days to make a round trip between England and Java, while a round trip between England and Cuba can be made in 50 days.

Under these circumstances and seemingly to avoid paying proposed United States war taxes on refined sugar the European Allies purchased in Cuba the sugar which ordinarily would have come to the United States in the fall months.

These conditions, and especially the necessity of saving ships,

In war time and at all times it is our aim to safeguard the interests of the public we serve.

American Sugar Refining Company

"Sweeten it with Domino"

led the United States and the Allied Nations to urge upon the sugar industry the adoption by voluntary agreement of the original Hoover plan, under the authority of the Food Control Act, passed August 10, 1917.

The cane-sugar refiners and the beet-sugar producers unanimously agreed to the Hoover plan as a patriotic act in the interest of the American people and as an aid to the Allies.

This is the significance of the appointment by the United States Food Administration of the International Sugar Committee to which the Allies send representatives for England, France, Italy and Canada, and to which the United States contributes three members.

Upon the success of the operation of the International Sugar Committee under the directions of the Allied Governments, acting for practically half the civilized world, will depend the readjustment of the world's sugar markets.

This plan is full of promise to all the nations party to the convention.

It is an assurance that sugar, although comparatively cheap in view of war conditions, will not by reason either of competitive or speculative activity be increased in wholesale price.

Sugar will become stabilized in price with sufficient profit to producers, refiners and merchants to maintain and stimulate production and to cover the cost of refining and of distribution.

The marketing of Domino Cane Sugars in cartons and small cotton bags by this Company has helped amazingly during the pinch of the fall months in giving a wide distribution among the retailers of the reduced sugar supplies.

While a barrel formerly was the unit of the grocer the same amount of sugar put up in cartons and small cotton bags can now be divided between two or more grocers and so serve a larger number of people and prevent hoarding.

It will be necessary for grocers and consumers to watch carefully their distribution and purchases during the approaching period of readjustment. The refineries are now starting up and supplies of raw sugar coming forward, but it will take weeks, and possibly months, for the return of normal conditions.

Housewives can aid in conserving the sugar supply by buying these package sugars.

OUR JUDGE
A. F. KUMMER
BUTLER, PA.

Is one of the best judges of poultry in the country. He has officiated at some of the largest and best shows and has given the best of satisfaction. His services have been secured for the Newark show and the Fanciers' Association Company is to be congratulated upon their selection of Mr. Kummer for this important office.

Newark's Big Poultry Show Starts Today and Will Continue All This Week

From all indications this exhibit promises to be one of the largest and best shows ever held by the Newark Fanciers' Association.

Among the entries are to be found the choicest and best birds from Licking and adjoining counties and all sections of the state. The Newark Fanciers' Association is organized for the purpose of promotion of better poultry and more of it and they are giving you a splendid opportunity this week to come, look, learn and profit from the results obtained by expert poultry raisers and fanciers.

The committee in charge has left nothing undone that will add to the success of the show and you can demonstrate your appreciation of their efforts by helping boost the attendance.

BEGIN TODAY.

Rich men save to get money to invest. Their investments make more money for them to invest. Savings comes first, you see—and it can be made a habit.

The government of the United States has given us all a chance to own its "stock." It wants to help us build the Thrift habit.

A quarter is all you need to start. At your postoffice, from your postman, your bank or at your store, you can get a Thrift stamp for a quarter. They'll give you a card. Stick your stamp to it. Every spare quarter you get will buy another stamp and you'll be surprised how soon you'll have sixteen of them attached to your card.

If your card is filled before February, you can put 12 cents to it and get a War Savings Certificate stamp that will draw interest to make it bring $5 on January 1, 1923. Five dollars for four dollars and twelve cents! And Uncle Sam guarantees the payment.

This is your opportunity. Start now. Try to fill your card. You can get your War Savings Certificate stamps in January for one cent less than in February, for two cents less in March—and so on.

The money will help our country win the war; the thrift habit will be a sure help toward your happiness. You can buy a War Savings stamp outright any day this month for $4.12. It's better than money, because it is non-taxable. It may be registered against loss and may be converted into money, with interest added.

Licking county's share of the Thrift stamp sale is $1,236,150. That is $20 for every person in Licking county.

Newark people are opening accounts by the thousands. Granville and Pataskala are making a wonderful record, and reports from Utica and Johnstown are very encouraging, but if this county is to do its share in this important war-work everybody must start savings accounts with Uncle Sam. You are not asked to give, but to save and loan your money to your government at a good rate of interest. Begin today.

INCOME TAX RETURNS.

"What deductions are allowed a farmer for 'business expenses' in making out his income-tax return?"

This is one of the many questions which revenue officers who will visit every county in the United States during January and February will answer in detail. Briefly, they include the amount expended for labor in the preparation of land for crops and in the cultivation, harvesting, and marketing of the crop. Deductions may be made for the cost of seed and fertilizer, the amount expended for labor in caring for livestock, cost of feed, repairs to farm and other farm buildings, but not the cost of repairs to the dwelling. The cost of repairs to farm fences and machinery is deductible, as well as the cost of small tools and material which is used up in the course of a year or two, such as binding twine, pitchforks, spades, etc.

The cost of machinery, such as tractors and thrashing machines, can not be deducted, but the cost of their operation is a deductible item.

The value of farm products is not considered taxable until reduced to cash or its equivalent. If crops and stocks were produced in 1916 and sold in 1917, the amount received therefor is to be included in the farmer's tax return for the calendar year 1917. Crops produced in 1917 and on hand December 31 need not be considered. Persons in doubt as to any of the provisions of the income-tax section of the war-revenue act are advised by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to see the revenue officer who will visit their county to assist taxpayers in making out their duties, which must be filed on or before March 1, 1918.

MAKING ARMY OFFICERS.

It is interesting to see how the work of training an army officer is developing under the strain of real war. It used to be a process largely of textbook study and dignified drill, calculated to produce an instant and precise control over a body of men.

Now at the training camps, particularly behind the lines in France, our boys are learning every bit of the technical work. An officer now must handle machine guns until he knows them better than the gunners, must throw grenades and discharge shells, rehearse formations for an attack and operate the gas and flame work. He must know every detail so that when things go wrong he will know why.

It is a great training. Not merely will it make a man a better officer than the old textbook drill, but it will make him mechanically resourceful when the war is over.

All those fancy inkwells, blotterholders and penstands that your women friends gave you Christmas may litter up your desk now, but it will be safe to chuck them in a week or two.

At present cost of living, it is with mixed emotions that you receive the joyful announcement of your beloved cousins that they are coming to spend a fortnight in your home.

It is amazing how generous people feel when they buy for 50 cents at a church food sale, pies and cake that took 75 cents worth of material and 75 cents worth of labor to make.

It's about time to take these people who are buying all these explosive chemicals for experiments, and lock them up right in the place where the experimenting is going on.

Speaking of the record-breaking cold snap of Saturday and Sunday the optimist thinks of the ice crop; the pessimist of frozen pipes and plumbers' bills.

Much alarm is expressed in New York City about the decadence of the New Year's celebration, as now-a-days comparatively few people get drunk.

As holiday weather is not considered suitable for baseball or football, the students who came home couldn't show what they have learned at college.

Many people will now proceed to apply the maxim, "Never do to day what you can put off until tomorrow," to the matter of January 1 bills.

People who pride themselves on their forethought, usually read the books they received Christmas before getting to the stores to exchange them.

On the high prices now prevailing, and merchant who advertises a bargain in The Advocate will get his notice read even before the war news.

Most of us have not accomplished what we expected to in 1917, but then everybody knows that tremendously big things will be done in 1918.

It's strange that the hoboes that are riding on the freight cars don't go to Russia, as there they would be put in charge of the government.

With the District of Columbia dry, some of the congressmen will have to go home frequently to consult their constituents.

If they had New Year come in at noon when no one cared to sleep, there might be less trouble with noisy celebrators.

TERMS FOR THE DEFEATED.

(Philadelphia Record.)
"Only a defeated Germany," says the Frankfort Zeitung, "could think of negotiating the terms laid down by the President are no easier for Germany."

But is not Germany defeated? What did Germany start out to accomplish? Has it achieved any of its ends, except in the south and southeast, where it has benefited by Russia's betrayal of Rumania and the first disintegrating influences of Russia's uprising against autocracy?

It is absolutely true that Germany has gained nothing whatever in the west since the first three months of the war. Its purposes to enter Paris, to capture Verdun, to break through the British lines to the British Channel, have all been defeated. The only changes of position that have occurred on the western front have been the retreat of German troops. What has become of Germany's purpose to take the Suez Canal, establish itself on the Persian Gulf and advance on the road to India? All these plans have been defeated.

What about the Italian front? The Italian loss of the Isonzo position occurred in October. Germany and Austria have been defeated in every effort to break through the lines on the Piave and at Asiago. The Crown Prince and other German generals have admitted for a year and a half that Germany was inferior on the western front to France and Great Britain, and these are now being reinforced by Americans.

Naturally the Germans are not pleased with the terms offered to them by President Wilson and Premier George. But if they have not succeeded in three and a half years, what chance is there that they will ever succeed? Time is on the side of the allies, who have a far larger population and vastly greater material resources than Germany. Germany's success depended on a short and sharp campaign, and it was defeated in that. In a war of attrition—and in spite of its military prowess it has failed to strike a decisive military blow—Germany has no chance whatever. The whole population of Germany is suffering from insufficient feeding, the machinery of Germany is suffering from lack of lubricants, the war weapons of Germany are suffering from a shortage of materials.

Germany has only dared to move 75,000 men from the east to the west front, and it is not through with Russia and Rumania yet. Where is it going to get the men and material for a prolongation of the war? England and France had at the beginning of the war 84,000,000 inhabitants, against 68,000,000 Germans, not counting the Austro-Hungarians. We have more than 100,000,000.

Germany does not like the terms offered her. Naturally. The allies will not accept the German terms. Even the Bolsheviks reject them. Is there a rational man outside of Germany who dreams that it can impose its terms on the allies?

So the only question before the German people is whether they will accept the terms offered by President Wilson and Prime Minister George, and secure immediate deliverance from the sufferings of war, or whether they will go on fighting a losing war, every day approaching nearer to complete exhaustion and collapse. There is absolutely not one reasonable excuse to hope for a "German victory." It has got to be a world victory.

REFUSING A RAISE.

(Ohio State Journal.)
A preacher in town had his salary raised $300, but he refuses to take it, because others need it more than he does. There is a case of self-denial worthy of the kingdom of heaven. A preacher is not usually the receiver of such a large and lavish stipend that he can refuse a $300 advance, but this preacher thinks he can, and he is the righteous judge in the matter. What a contrast is his case with that of many others in high positions, who get several thousand dollars a year, and yet are raising Cain because they cannot get more! It is often the case that a man secures a really good salary, but keeps himself in deep grief until he gets more. That preacher has no doubt repeated to himself Socrates' prayer, "Grant me, O God, all I need and no more," and then proceeds to answer the prayer himself. There is nothing so divine in this world as a man answering his own prayer.

Spirit of the Press

United We Stand.

What is at stake in this war looms high over all the previous incidents of human history, and its salvation will determine the course of that history, for generations to come. The circumstances of the last three years and a half and events that have been culminating in the last ten months have put the United States in the forefront of a mighty conflict whose results concern its people more than any other. Its government, its varied material interests and its people must pull together with all their might to determine the great issue as soon as it can be done with complete effect.—New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin.

Freight Car Shortage.

The action of Director McAdoo in increasing demurrage charges against consignees who use freight cars for storage purposes at terminals strikes at one of the recognized handicaps of prompt freight movements, and might well have been expended to apply to cars held indefinitely at seaboards yards. It would be more profitable to unload freight for export promptly than to keep the scanty rolling stock of the railroads idle because of lack of ocean-carriage space. But the railroad service must do its part in contributing to the convenience of persons in discharging their cars.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Ships the Supreme Need.

The supreme need of the nations that are leagued against Germany is ships. Without them the overwhelming resources of the Allies cannot be brought to bear in the area of military action. Foodstuffs and munitions must be transported across the seas, and to provide bottoms to carry them every ship that can be built must be produced. America's duty is to create, maintain and operate a fleet of cargo carriers sufficiently large to assure the uninterrupted provisioning of the nations beside whose soldiers our own sons now stand on the battlefields of Europe. The paramount need of the civilized world today is more ships, and the United States must supply them.—New York Sun.

Cutting Red Tape.

The government officials are finding out that the surest way to get things done is by violating the stupid laws that they have been trying to enforce. When will somebody have the courage to move for their repeal and for some sort of reparation for those who have been fined or imprisoned—at all events have been humiliated—for doing what it is now declared necessary to do in order to get best results?—Hartford Courant.

If the allied armies find it profitable to salvage uniforms from the battlefields, it's easily possible to realize that the mite you furnish in buying War Savings Stamps will do its share in winning the war.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of The Advocate.—I saw your paper hung up in Y. M. C. A. hall, No. 19, containing the names of the boys who have left good, old Licking county and find my name missing. I would certainly appreciate one of your medals if you have any left. I am a Licking county product and will always stick up for my home-state. I enlisted at Zanesville and am at Camp Sheridan, Yours truly, Emmett E. Wells, Battery A, 134th Field Artillery, Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala.

If Mr. Wells' present home is in Licking county, The Advocate will be glad to send him an engraved bronze medal. To date, nearly 800 of these medals have been issued. It is manifestly impossible to give a medal to every soldier or sailor who, at one time, lived in this county, so it has been found necessary to limit the distribution to residents of Licking county who are in the ser-

The Advocate's TRAVELLING ROUTE

Dissimulation is but a faint kind of policy or wisdom; for it asketh a strong wit and a strong heart to know when to tell the truth and to do it; therefore, it is the weakest sort of politicians that are the greatest dissemblers.—Bacon.

It Did the Work.
Aunt Caline says:—Last nite after supper on a-gon' to the door to let in the dog which he allers likes to crawl under the warm stove, I heard the most offle yell I ever heard of, which I wouldn't repeat. It was so offle, an' so I hurried in an' says to Zeke, "You hussle an' get a coat onto you," says I, "fer I think they's a murder bein' committed over to Wash Moore's."

says I. So Zeke he taken a poker an' I took a skillet, fer I hev allers held that a skillet is about the best weapon you could hev, the handle makin' it so easy to swing. Well, we went on over to Wash an' the noise in there kep' on, so Zeke he jest opened up the door an' we went in. Wash he set in the middle of the floor jest drippin' with water which it already looked like it would icicle onto him, an' Pearl, which is his wife, she stood there with the garden hose into her hand, which she had screwed onto the bibb in the kitchen sink, an' she was a-turbin' a terrible stream onto Wash an' his words was the most offle you ever listened to. "Stop, blast ye!" says he, an' I went up an' boken the hose an' throwed in the sink an' says I, "What in lande's name is gone here?" says I. "Hev you lost your mind, Pearl?" I says, "No," she says, "Wash he hed a dooin' in his year," she says, "an' Deed Killum he says to put sweet oil into it an' then to wash it out good with a syringe," she says, "an us not a-havin' no year syringe I jest used this here hose, an' it sure did wash it out good," she says, "Yes, says Wash, 'it did, it dangered near blew my year through my hair,' he says."

Waff!
She turned him down when he proposed, did sweet young Mary Tooter. Her reason for her action was: Her suitor didn't suit her.

Unlucky was poor Mary West. She died, alas, discover That when she put him to the test, Her lover didn't love her.

Did You Know
That the helmets of the English police are equipped with electric lights? Now that extra precautions vice, in fact, the medal fund raised by popular subscription is still a little short of the amount required to pay for the 826 medals which have been received to date. The first 400 medals, including engraving and mailing, cost a trifle over 80 cents each, but subsequent orders were filled at a cost of a little over 50 cents. The Advocate has written to Mr. Wells inquiring his present home-address, and if it is in Licking county a medal will be sent to him as quickly as it can be engraved.

The coming man also has to demonstrate his ability to make a go of it.

Recollections.
To Aunt Caline. I wonder if you can recall the time. Back in the good old fashioned days, oh how the years do climb, When you and I considered every happy hour as fun.

Markie-Wilkin.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday noon at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Wilkin, when their daughter, Florence Wilkin, was united in marriage to Mr. James Markie of Newark.

They were attended by Miss Gladys Beall and Mr. Blair Markie, brother of the bridegroom. The bride was gown in white charmeuse with silver lace, while the bridesmaid wore a gown of blue. The ring service was read by Rev. A. B. Cox, pastor of the East Main Street U. B. church, and a wedding dinner was served.

Mrs. Herman Shakely was hostess to the Progressive Embroidery club at her home, Chestnut street, Wednesday afternoon. A delightful afternoon was spent in various needlework and two spirited contests in which Mrs. Claude Garrison and Mrs. Albert Cornell were the heavy contestants. At a late hour dainty refreshments were served to the members and three guests—Mrs. J. Lichtenstein, Mrs. Albert Cornell of Conesville, O., and Mrs. Earl Sutton of Bellaire, O.

The club adjourned to meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Glenn Stowell, Hoover street.

The members of the Review club were entertained on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Sedwick in Hudson avenue. Miss Alice Ashbrook gave a paper on "The East Side" and Mrs. Samuel Sachs spoke on "Welfare Work."

The L. C. B. A. will entertain with a card party on Tuesday afternoon at the Knights of Columbus club rooms.

Mr. Fred Foster was successfully surprised at his home in Elmwood avenue Saturday evening by a number of his friends. The occasion was his birthday anniversary and the event was planned by Mrs. Foster. A delightful evening was spent and a luncheon served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bell Preston, Mr. and Mrs. George Weakley, Mrs. Rebecca Hankinson, Mrs. Katy Fowler, Misses Gertrude Fowler, Bess Fowler, Stella Davidson, Mary Stapleton, Mr. James Stapleton and Violet and Edna Foster.

The Masonic club will entertain with a masquerade dancing party at Masonic Temple on Wednesday evening, January 16. Each member is privileged to invite another couple. Dancing will be enjoyed from 8 to 12 o'clock and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. Fields orchestra will furnish the dance program.

WHERE BITES ARE TREATED

Mission Dispensaries Cure Many Africans Who Sustain All Manner of Dangerous Injuries.

Africans go to the mission dispensaries to be cured of bites from all kinds of animals, and a large number of them are cured. The commonest bites are from snakes, says a writer in World Outlook. In Inhabitant are 18 to 20 varieties of poisonous snakes, some very deadly, whose bites mean a fight for life. Hyenas kill or carry off hundreds of children each year, and most of those who are rescued have terrible scalp wounds, as the hyena carries a child by the head. Other biting pests of the region are lions, from whom few escape alive; scorpions, very poisonous and fond of getting into beds; hypos flies, large flies that in biting take huge pieces of flesh and cause great swellings; sharks, of which the bay is full. But the most common, bite and seemingly the hardest to heal, is the human bit. The Africans when they get angry use their teeth to good advantage. There is scarcely a morning that several do not come to the dispensary. One boy had his lower lip bit off, and for him a new lip was made.

Legal Anatomy.

I followed with interest from time to time the innocent errors of the little blue-eyed helpmate of the office. I doubt not that, without her help, greater mistakes in typing would be made; not in spelling of grammar, perhaps, but such as these: "Dear, Sir yours of the 1st re:ceived and reply will say," etc.

Be that as it may, I have one here which I think worthy of a paper. I dictated as follows:

"Such a proposition, couched as it is in terms to mislead the jury, is not a true statement of the law, is untenable and is certain to mean defeat to the ends of justice."

My stenographer evidently thought that our courts use a defeated litigant much as father does an unfavorable suitor for daughter's hand, for she wrote:

"Such a proposition, couched as it is in terms to mislead the jury, is not a true statement of the law, is untenable and is certain to mean defeat to the ends of justice."

THREE ENGLISH PEERESSES DO MERCY WORK FOR WOUNDED SOLDIERS OF KING

This trio of English peeresses has done a great mercy work since the war began. They have given their time and efforts to the work of making life more cheerful for the wounded soldiers.

THE COURTS

Marriage Licenses. Carl Wesley Lind, 20, soldier, Pataskala; Miss Clara Augusta Harner, 16, Outville. Rev. B. F. Crawford to officiate.

Increase in Dog Tax. County Auditor Fred C. Wilson stated today that there were approximately 150 dogs licensed last week. The auditor will continue in the issuing of the licenses. Anyone owning a dog that is too young to be licensed at the present time will be compelled to purchase a license tag as soon as the dog is three months old. Records show that approximately 80 per cent more tax has been paid for dogs this year than last.

Juvenile Court.

Three girls were before the juvenile court today on a charge of taking $14.75 from Miss Lillian McNeal, a school teacher at the Hartzer building, and two dresses from Mrs. Jos. Stock, North Sixth street. The girls admitted the charge. The court ordered that the girls pay back the money taken and pay for the damages done to the dresses. The court also gave them a suspended sentence to the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware.

Common Pleas Court.

In common pleas court in the case of Clarence Stradley, Guardian of Sarah C. Stradley, vs. the Hartford Fire Insurance Co., a suit to recover upon a fire insurance policy, the court found in favor of the insurance company.

The court based his finding upon the fact that the suit to recover upon the policy of insurance had not been commenced within one year after the house had burned down, the policy containing a condition to that effect.

In the case of Philip C. Shaw vs. Justin Keeley, the court overruled the motion for a new trial, and entered exceptions. The statutory time was followed by the court to enable the defendant to file a petition in error and bill of exceptions in the court of appeals. Plaintiff recovered.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Sheriff's Sale. In the case of the Johnstown Building and Loan Association vs. Christine Odendahl, Sheriff Swank sold lot 3914 in the A. H. Heisey addition located in Garfield avenue. The property was appraised at $1,800 and was sold to the plaintiff for $1,750.

The Sick. Mrs. Grover Ciare was moved from her home in Cherry street to 169 West Locust street last night in the Bazler ambulance.

Largest Poisonous Reptile.

The Surucucu, known as the bush-master, is the largest poisonous reptile in the world, and is fortunately rare and found only in the depths of the jungle and swamps, where man rarely penetrates. It attains a length of twelve to fifteen feet; the color of its body is rose, or rather yellowish pink, with brown patterns and flints of purple. Its bite is almost always fatal. Its fangs are an inch long and as much as ten ounces of venom have been extracted.

You can blend the wheatless days with a grain of common sense and be a patriot still.

The Beautiful Mouth. If your mouth is defective, improve the shape of your lips by avoiding careless habits. Many pretty women are disgraced by careless habits of mouthing their words, of chewing their lips, of ridiculous contortions while they talk.

The time to train our mouths to beauty is in our infancy. Our mothers should begin the work and when we have reached years of intelligence, we should carry it forward.

If the mouth is too large it can be trained to lesser size by tender pinching of the corners. This makes the lines at the corners almost indistinguishable, and diminishes the size. Also train the lips to deepen their beauty cleft by pushing the center portions together with the fingers. This light pressure, four or five times a day, will marvelously refashion the mouth.

The lips should be lightly massaged at night just before retiring. Do not use glycerine alone on the lips, nor any other surface of the skin as it is too drying. It has the power to draw moisture from the skin and that moisture should be replaced by the water with which the glycerine should be mixed.

As to color the lips should not be too red. The normal lips should be the same color as the gums, not blood red but three shades lighter than a steamed arterial blood. Preserve the color by keeping the body in health. If the circulation is defective the lips will be pale. If we become anaemic, pallid lips will be one of the first signs of our state of health. To make the lips the right color improve the tone of the system.

Our Boys and Girls

Few mothers realize how much sleep a baby takes if given the opportunity and not only babies, but small boys and girls. A baby, until he is nine months old, should sleep from two to two and a half hours after his morning bath and for an hour in the afternoon. Then he should sleep from eleven to twelve hours at night. He should not be sung to or taken up for any reason except sickness. As he grows older one nap is sufficient and that is best taken after lunch. Up until school age all children should be trained to take this afternoon nap. From four until nine years of age children should go to bed from 7 to 7:30 in winter and from 8 to 8:30 in summer.

If you want something very quaint in the way of a suit for the little kiddie, why not make him a Dickens suit, at least for the playtime? The trousers are decidedly knickerbocker fashion, having no fullness at the knees to make them in any way resemble bloomers so much worn by boys until lately.

The knickerbockers come up very high in the waist line almost to the armpits and button on the outside of the dearest little scallop embroidered shirtwaist. This waist is tucked smooth and straight without any fullness whatever. Into the knickerbockers a rounded turn-back collar is embroidered in buttonhole stitch and turnback cuffs are made to match.

The fellow who boasts that he never takes water sometimes finds himself between the devil and the deep sea.

THE RAILROADS

The attention of all officers and employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad is called, by President Samuel Rea, to the appeal for energetic and loyal service issued by Hon. William G. McAdoo, Director General of Railroads.

Posters reprinting Mr. McAdoo's message, under the heading "The Nation's Call to Railroad Men," have been prepared and will be displayed at once on all employees' bulletin boards, in passenger and freight stations, shops and round houses throughout the entire Pennsylvania Railroad System, both east and west of Pittsburgh.

The Director General's appeal is followed, on the posters by the following personal message from President Rea to the working forces of the Pennsylvania System:

"The Management of the Pennsylvania Railroad System is confident that every officer and employee will respond loyally and unwaveringly."

IN "THE WOMAN GOD FORGOT"
BY JEANIE MACPHERSON

AUDITORIUM THEATRE-----Tomorrow and Wednesday

Rialto (N. Y.) gives extra performances daily to handle crowds on "The Woman God Forgot."

—M. P. WORLD

If ever the exhibitors of the country were handed a gold mine on an in-laid pearl platter Artercraft has performed this feat of generosity to them in "The Woman God Forgot." * * * "The Woman God Forgot" is a special if ever there was one. It might just as easily have opened at $2, and the people who paid that price would have received their money's worth. It is a wonderful story, wonderfully produced, wonderfully acted. * * * There may be better pictures than "The Woman God Forgot," but I have not seen them.

—"Zit" In The Evening Journal (New York).

As an evidence of its popular appeal, the theatre at the opening performance last night was packed, and at times the ticket line extended several rods down the street.

AUDITORIUM.

Ethel Leginska Tonight.

It has been said on good authority that no country in the world appreciates a good artist more than the people of the United States. When real artists do come to these shores and "make good" their works have been most highly appreciated. Five years ago there came to New York a young English pianist by the name of Ethel Leginska. When she landed this young artist possessed less than a hundred dollars. This season Miss Leginska possesses contracts for more than one hundred concerts and recitals.

Yet it is continually being said that unless a new artist has a great financial backing it is impossible to succeed as this is only the land of the dollar, and nothing else counts. No matter how great an artist is, or what reputation he has won in European music centers, in America he must start all over again. "The beginning all over again" may bear some truth. American music lovers have plucked so many lessons from the basket of art in the past, that they are going to take care in the future.

Miss Leginska also had an excellent reputation. Had she not won a seven years scholarship at the conservatory at Frankfurt-on-Main? Had she not concertized in Austria, Germany, France, England and other countries with fine success. To be sure she had, they why not come to America and do the same? Miss Leginska did come, she conquered. Perhaps not so quickly as she might have expected but she conquered in a manner the public will never forget. Mme. Leginska is to be heard in concert at the Auditorium tonight at 8:15 sharp.

Geraldine Farrar.

"I don't know why I am not selected to play nice, easy parts," smiled Geraldine Farrar, the famous prima donna to be seen at the Auditorium tomorrow and Wednesday in Jeanie MacPherson's gripping drama for Artercraft Pictures, "The Woman God Forgot," which was produced under the personal direction of Cecil B. DeMille. "I always seem to get things like this," and Miss Farrar pointed to a pair of nearly nude Indian warriors who with arrow and spear were attacking the mass of fighting Spaniards but a short distance away from her.

Five minutes before she paused, Miss Farrar herself was leading the attacking Indians, and was surrounded by flying arrows and fighting men.

"You know," the diva continued, "in 'Joan the Woman' we had a number of very strenuous scenes in which I took part, and really I believe that Mr. DeMille lies awake nights thinking of different combats in which I can enter. He has burned me at the stake and nearly had me killed in a number of different ways.

"However, I have certainly enjoyed doing this picture, which deals with the conquests of the Mexicans by the Spanish, and I was never so fascinated with anything in my life. I always had an idea that the Indians lived in caves and were a lot of uncivilized savages, but they were very, very highly educated. They had schools for the children, seminaries for the young women; they had public markets, which were open on certain days under the auspices of the city; they had policemen—and books—not rolls of manuscripts, but real books, made of the bark of some kind of a tree, and bound together with great heavy covers. Of course they had no alphabet, but used certain marks, which were explained from one generation to another. "The Aztecs had their own courts, and really it surprised me when I delved into the history of that period to find out how far they were advanced. Of course they worshiped idols, and a number of different gods, but the most terrible thing they did was to offer human sacrifices. Life was cheap in those days, and the custom had been handed down to them for centuries.

"Miss MacPherson's story tells how Montezuma's daughter sacrificed her country and her father for the love of a young Spaniard, a captain under Cortes, the conqueror.

"Mr. DeMille has done this picture in some of the most beautiful and spectacular settings I have ever seen, and I feel sure that everyone will like the production."

"The Princess Pat."

A notable engagement is that of Victor Herbert—Henry Blossom's musical comedy "The Princess Pat," at the Cort Theatre, New York production which will be presented at the Auditorium, Newark, Thursday, Jan. 17th. Credited with being the long odds best of the several works on which these two brainiest men, in their respective fields, have combined their talents and that includes "Mlle Modiste," "The Prima Donna" and "The Red Mill" and conceded by critics generally elsewhere to be the best musical play of the day. The forthcoming engagement is certain to prove of unusual interest to local theatregoers.

Its score is said to be more graceful, more melodious and more varied, and its book more consistent and interesting than that of any other musical entertainment presented in many months. In this musical play, Mr. Herbert Blossom and Mr. Blossom have shown the same aptness in coordinating music and story, lyrics and libretto melody, which distinguished their "Mlle Modiste" and other noteworthy successes. Mr. Herbert's music, which is always a delight, was never more so than it is in "The Princess Pat," which Mr. Blossom's accompanying story holds the interest of the auditor from the first complication, when an attractive young girl finds herself engaged to an old man whom she does not love until she is finally rid of him, through an elopement with his son. The lovers are assisted by "Princess Pat" who indulges in a flirtation with the rich old man, not only to aid her friend, but also to teach her indifferent husband a lesson. Important in the presenting cast are Annette Ford, Steff Anderson, Francis Schofield, Nelson Riley, Neil Moore, Edwin Stanley, Augustus Buell, John Reinhard, Peter MacArthur and Wilbur Cox. A chorus for which real beauty and real voices is claimed as a most important adjunct of "The Princess Pat." Admirers of Victor Herbert's style of music will find much to enjoy in "Make Him Guess," "Allies," "Love Is Best of All," "For Better or for Worse," "All for You," "In a Little World for Two," "Laughing Irish Eyes," and also the remainder of the twenty numbers in this charming musical comedy. Seats on sale tomorrow at 10 a. m.

"The Honor System."

William Fox will present at the Auditorium next Friday, and Saturday a film drama which has already come to be known as the pride of his studio. In the great and mighty study of American life, "The Honor System," directed by L. A. Walsh, all of the artistic, scientific and psychological knowledge of film production which this pioneer producer has, he has put ungrudgingly into this masterpiece. (Continued on Page 8, Col. 1.)

At War With Yourself!

HELP NATURE TO DEFEAT THE DISEASE IN YOUR BODY.

Keep up the fight; do not give up. Nature is trying to serve you in conquering the wrong that may exist. Red blood, vim, courage, vitality, all seem lacking. No wonder you are nervous and discouraged.

Why not call to your aid a strong, dependable ally? Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has for over forty years proven its merit as a most powerful tonic and blood builder to the many thousands who have been returned to good health by its use.

Clear the coated tongue, get rid of unsightly skin trouble. Let this remarkable remedy rid your body of the impurities of the blood, let it tone and strengthen you. It often cures the lingering chronic cough.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is absolutely a herbal tonic, free from alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs. All druggists. Liquid or tablets.

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—"Some years ago Dr. Pierce's medicine saved my mother's life. She had been sick for some time with woman's weakness and along with this she contracted a very bad cough. She doctored but seemed to get worse instead of better, when at last she became bedfast. She gradually grew weaker until the doctors gave her up. We sent and got Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for her, and when she had taken the first bottle she was much improved. We kept up its use until she had taken nine bottles, when she was well, healthy and strong. "Golden Medical Discovery" also cured me of a chronic cough which had bothered me for years. I do highly recommend the 'Discovery' to all who are in need of medicine of this kind." Mrs. ALICE ORNSTEIN, 1214 Norwood Boulevard.

In the Days of Montezuma

Out of the legendary mists of an ancient civilization there will be revealed shortly a feminine personality displaying all the rich, romantic charm of the semi-barbarous—Tezca, a princess of the Aztecs, and the daughter of Montezuma. In the long ago of Mexico, when Cortez and his Spanish army conquered the wonderful city of the Indians, whose origin has never been universally agreed upon, Tezca played an important part in the downfall of her people. How she sacrificed the cause of her father for the love of a Spaniard, how after a bloody battle in which her warriors faced gun powder for the first time, her armies were finally defeated and how she finally saved the life of her sweetheart is all graphically portrayed to modern civilization through the medium of the cinema.

Several months of careful research into the many, and sometimes mythical, chronicles of this ancient people revealed in Tezca, the daughter of Montezuma, a personality of great courage, yet with a certain sweet charm that made her beloved by all her people. To characterize this personage was selected Geraldine Farrar, whose "Joan the Woman" will long be remembered as a film masterpiece. In the new motion picture spectacle which has been entitled "The Woman (God Forgoth)", Miss Farrar again leads troops into battle with thrilling effect and offers a dramatic characterization that, it is said, will prove a greater triumph than even her "Joan". Staged under the direction of Cecil B. De jestic story of the suffering human soul.

Mille and written by Jeanie Macpherson, producer and author respectively of "Joan", this new vehicle for the inimitable Farrar, released by Artcraft, is expected to set a new standard in cinema presentation.

And there is a psychology of the photoplay. The late Prof. Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard, wrote and printed 230 thinking, moving pages to prove it. He says, "The truly up-building photoplay is not a dramatized sermon on morality and religion." And Mr. Fox adds: "You are right, Professor, and in this film drama, 'The Honor System', Mr. Walsh and all of us are not preaching a sermon. We are telling the greatest human story of life as it has really been lived, and we are offering our public a film, not a fad. But through it all there creeps out the truth, and it cannot be denied that the greatest human endeavor is the Divine attribute to rebuilding a human soul."

Auditorium Notes.

An event of the season is the appearance of Mme. Leginska, famous as a woman pianist, who is to be heard in concert tonight at the Auditorium.

The last episode of those wonderful pictures "The Retreat of the Germans at the Battle of Arras," is to be seen at the Auditorium tomorrow and Wednesday together with the wonderful 6 part Artercraft "The Woman God Forgoth" in which Geraldine and Wallace Reid are seen.

A famous all-star cast is seen in "The Honor System" the big Ten Part William Fox master play that comes to the Auditorium, Milton Sills, Mrs. Cora Drew, J. A. Marcus, Arthur Mackler, Miriam Cooper, Charles Glary, Gladys Brockwell, Ray Rice, George Walsh, Johnny Reese, Lillian Hathaway, Bernard Erttractor, John Eberts.

Mr. Fenberg's bunch of classy musicians under the able leadership of Frank Reynolds are giving the amusement seekers in Basil and Baltimore a treat today as they give a concert this evening at the Aurora Theatre in Basil Ohio.

"Doug" Fairbanks, seen only in Artercraft Features at the Auditorium, comes to that cozy playhouse on next Sunday in "Reaching for the Moon." The engagement is for three days.

Miriam Cooper, seen here Friday and Saturday in "The Honor System" was one of the stars of "The Birth of a Nation" the picture that broke all records at the Auditorium a short time ago. Miss Cooper in "The Honor System" is seen as Edith Holt, daughter of the Sheriff and is called "Little Lady of the Flowers" by the prisoners of her dad's big prison.

"The 13th Chair" seen at Columbus a few weeks ago, comes to Newark soon. This is a Henry B. Harris Co., and will be the same company that played Columbus. The date will be announced later.

A New Star in Vaudeville.
Long known to the dramatic stage, as an actress of exceptional merit and beauty Miss Nancy Boyer, who for several years has headed her own company, is at present making a short vaudeville tour. She has selected "The Comedy Playlet in one act, entitled 'The First Kiss' to bid for vaudeville favor, and has surrounded herself with an unusual supporting cast, which includes Arthur Chatterdon, the well known leading man, late star of "Ben Hur," Jane Tarr, Harry Hamilton and Henry Testa. The scene is laid in the living room of a quaint old Quaker home in Pennsylvania. The story tells of a beautiful young Quakeress, who has been brought up in the rigid Puritan atmosphere of her forefathers. She makes her first trip into the outer world, when she is sent to Philadelphia to collect money to build a new church. Bubbled over with vivacity of girlhood, that has always been held in restraint, she for the first time in her life, comes in contact with pretty clothes and the every day pleasures of life. To this ship of a girl it is like a view of fairy land, and she returns home a much changed girl, much to the dismay of her father and grandmother, who she is sure to shock at each disclosure of some of the wonderful things she has seen while away. One of the big incidents was the accidental meeting of a young man, whose father has donated $1,000 to her church fund, and who later to the consternation of the old folks turns out to be the owner of a brewery. The playlet abounds in dramatic situations, with an abundance of clean humor. The character of Precilla is especially fitted to Nancy, and a sweeter little Quakeress was never seen in real life. You will surely love her.

AFTER TWO YEARS HE STILL SAYS TO TAKE NERV-WORTH

D. L. Preston Reaffirms Former Endorsement — Keeps the Tonic Always On Hand.

The former endorsement, given to the Nerv-Worth druggist at Ashland, Ky., is as follows:

"For years I have been troubled with indigestion and was very nervous at times. I would be very dizzy. Poor appetite. Could not sleep and so weak was not fit for work. I have taken all kinds of medicines but did not get much benefit. A friend recommended Nerv-Worth and I purchased two bottles at your store and took according to directions. I feel so good I want to feel better, so am purchasing the third bottle today. My appetite is good. I sleep well and am not dizzy. My nerves are much improved and I am feeling stronger and better every day. I am recommending Nerv-Worth for I find it the best tonic I can purchase."

"D. L. PRESTON, Ashland, Ky."

A Nerv-Worth representative interviewed Mr. Preston a few days ago and found him, after the lapse of over two years, as enthusiastic a friend of Nerv-Worth as ever. Mr. Preston remarked that he still recommends it to friends and neighbors and kept it always on hand, buying three bottles at a time, so that when he feels nervous and bad he can take the remedy and restore normal conditions.

The T. J. Evans Drug Store sells Nerv-Worth in Newark. Dollar back if the tonic doesn't benefit you.

BOLIVIA'S CITY OF SILENCE

Santa Cruz De La Sierra Far From the Outside World—Mail Reaches New York in Two Months.

"The only tropical city of Bolivia it stands from 1,500 feet above sea level so far from the outside world that mail deposited on January 7 reached New York on March 11. Of the 19,000 inhabitants of Santa Cruz De La Sierra, 11,000 are female, writes Harry A. Franck in the Century.

"It is a city of silence. Spreading over a dead-flat, half-sandy, jungled plain, its right-angled streets are deep in reddish sand in which not only its shod feet, by no means in the majority, though the upper class is almost foppish in dress, but even the solid wooden wheels of its clumsy ox carts made not a sound. There is no modern industry to lend its strident voice, though the town boasts three 'stream establishments' for the making of ice, the grinding of maize and the sawing of lumber, and every street fades away at either end into the whispering jungle. Narrow sidewalks of porous red bricks, roofed by the wide overhanging eaves of the houses, often upheld by pillars or poles, line most of the streets. But these are by no means continuous, and being commonly high above the street level and often taken up entirely, especially of an evening, by the families, who consider this their veranda rather than the pedestrian's right of way, the latter generally finds it easier to plod through the sand of the street itself."

WAR BREAD FROM SMALL POTATOES

By P. G. HOLDEN.

It is hardly possible to estimate from a standpoint of food conservation the great value of potatoes as a substitute for wheat and other grains in the making of bread.

One hundred million bushels of small potatoes will save 100,000,000 bushels of wheat. About 30 per cent of the annual potato crop in the United States consists of small potatoes which are unmarketable, made little use of, practically wasted, almost a total loss to the country. The small potatoes can be substituted for one-third the wheat flour used in making bread. Potato bread is better bread in every way than bread made entirely of wheat or a combination of wheat and other grains.

The use of potatoes in bread is economical at any time. It is patriotic at this time; it utilizes waste potatoes; saves wheat and other grain which can be exported; saves corn, barley and oats which can be used to produce meats and fats for our soldiers; gives us white, moist and wholesome bread for every meal; does not require extra work for the housewife, nor change the usual custom and practices of the home; means two and one-third wheatless days a week, ten wheatless days a month, four wheatless months a year.

Saves Waste of Potatoes.

Potatoes are grown in every section of the country, found in every home, are a universal food. Every family can produce them. Potatoes are an abundant crop in the United States; the possibilities of increasing the total yield in this country cannot be estimated. Potatoes are a perishable crop—cannot be exported to foreign countries, cannot be carried over from one season to another. The potatoes we grow in this country we must use at home. The nature of potato starch is so nearly the same as wheat flour that there is no difficulty in using this combination in bread making.

Last season the farmers of the United States produced about 440,000,000 bushels of potatoes. About 100,000,000 bushels of this crop were small, irregular, unmarketable potatoes.

I earnestly believe that in no other way can so great a saving be made in food in America with so little labor and so small expense as the use of small potatoes in the making of bread in place of small grains which can be shipped to our soldiers and the fighting armies of the allies to help us this war.

How to Make Potato War Bread.

Baked or boiled potatoes, mashed or put through ricer, can be substituted for one-third the wheat flour in any standard recipe for making wheat bread, biscuits, pancakes, waffles, doughnuts, pie crusts, etc. When potatoes are used, a little less liquid may be required in the mixing.

The Agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company, Chicago, will send, free of charge to anyone, sample copy of war bread recipes.

The Red Cross rooms will be open Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9 until 12 o'clock, and also other afternoons throughout the week including Saturday.

No Meeting Tomorrow.
The Isabelle Miller W. C. T. U. will not meet tomorrow on account of the inclement weather.

Amputate Toes.
It was found necessary to operate on William Jenkins of Dewey avenue at the Newark Sanitarium for the removal of several toes. Recently Mr. Jenkins had his foot badly crushed in a railroad accident.

Police Court.
A number of cases of intoxication faced Mayor Atherton in police court Monday morning. E. F. Stevens, charged with assault, was fined $5 and costs, and Earl Patton of Ulica, was also fined $5 and costs. William Lewis of Cleveland, was fined $8 and costs for drunkenness, and Ed Walter of Toledo, drew a fine of $5 Henry Cassel, arrested for safe-keeping, was dismissed.

Condition Still Serious.
Merwin Bingham, who was so seriously injured in a coasting accident Thursday evening, is doing as well as can be expected. He is at the City Hospital and his condition is still serious. He is suffering a compound fracture of the left leg.

Is Making Good.
Omar Patterson of Piqua, O., spent Sunday with his brother, Ray, of Hudson avenue. "Pat" left Newark five years ago and now holds a responsible position with The Favorite Store and Range company of Piqua. He is assistant advertising manager of that concern.

Revival Continues.
The revival at the Pine street Christian Union church will continue this week. Rev. Mr. Cowley will preach this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

School Dismissed.
The St. Francis de Sale school was not in session today because there was not enough gas to heat the building to a comfortable temperature.

IMPASSIONED PLEA FOR RETURN OF WIFE AND HIS LITTLE BABY

An unusual letter was received by the Advocate today for publication. It was written on the letterhead of the Y. M. C. A. of this city, and was an impassioned plea by a man for the return of his wife and baby.

Accompanying the letter was the following note to the editor: "Please publish this letter for me, and oblige an old time and true friend, and a man who is going to try and get among friends. Yours in haste."

The letter was addressed to "Dearest Mother and baby Lorenda," and stated that the writer had searched for them in vain. That he had returned to Mansfield, Ohio, and was waiting for them to come back. He stated that he had purchased a turkey only to learn that the mother and baby had left the city. He stated that he was in Newark and that he was searching for them. He stated that he regrets his folly in leaving them, but that he has suffered greatly and must appeal to them to let him see them "if only for a minute."

He also said: "I would hate to have my baby know that her daddy was a coward for I know my mind would give away and rather than suffer that way I would take my general step. This letter is signed 'from your broken-hearted and soul wrecked husband, Daddy Jack.'"

The also contains a notation saying: "If this reaches you send a postal to General Delivery, Newark, if not too late."

Inquiry at the Y. M. C. A. failed to throw any light on the possible identity of the writer.

WILL SERVE DINNER FOR LICKING BOYS WEDNESDAY EVE.

Word has been received from Chillicothe that the committee here in charge of the Christmas dinner, which was postponed, can arrange to give the dinner Wednesday evening.

The Christmas dinner committee in charge of the plans announced that the dinner will be given on Wednesday evening in the Elks hall at Chillicothe, providing they can get through. A dinner of several courses has been arranged and the committee announces that all donations and reports must be in by Tuesday night. The food for the dinner will be loaded on the trucks belonging to Joseph Annarino, and the start will be made Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock.

The dinner has been planned by a number of prominent Newark men for the Newark and Licking county boys in camp.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB

PATRIOTIC MEETING PRAISES JACKSON

The Licking County Democratic club held a very interesting and profitable meeting at its rooms, South Third street, Friday evening. It was the occasion of the Jackson patriotic session.

There was a strong and perceptible thread of patriotic sentiment running through all the speeches, swelling them together in one great intellectual address addressed to the spirit of the present times.

B. F. McDonald, the first speaker, spoke of the great men of the Democratic party, especially of the supremacy of Jefferson, who was contemporaneous with the beginning of our government and the re-enforcement of Jackson later on, and the world-wide application of their principles by President Wilson. His address was a gem.

J. H. Newton, the next speaker, spoke of Jackson's military achievements, coupled with his courage, personality, integrity, statesmanship, and his intense patriotism. It was a splendid talk.

B. G. Smythe's address had a unique setting that made it attractive and furnished food for subsequent speakers. He referred to Wilson as the greatest modern Democrat and statesman. His talk was fine.

Roderic Jones referred to the many noble qualities of Jackson—courageous and successful manner of handling all difficulties of his time—and said we could judge from those that position he would take in the present crisis were he living now. The speaker closed with a stirring appeal to all who are not eligible to enlist; to stand behind the president in doing all we can to help him win the war.

C. W. Swygert of Hebron, made a sensible and scholarly address and ended somewhat into detail in matters that made his talk both interesting and educational. He complimented Jackson for doing unafraid what he thought was right.

J. Dale McNamara, a young student at the O. S. U., finished the program as prepared by the committee. He is an easy, fluent and affable speaker. He has visited many places connected with the biography of Jackson. His speech was well received.

F. T. Mercer was called out and responded in a talk that was heartily applauded, as were all the speakers.

O. C. Larason presided over the meeting, and B. V. Weakley acted as secretary.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate.)

Granville, Jan. 14.—The death of Fred W. Hobart, one of the most prominent farmers of the township, occurred at his home one mile north of Granville on Saturday night, Jan. 12, while one of the worst blizzards experienced here in years, was raging. Mr. Hobart's death followed a prolonged illness from heart trouble, which was borne with Christian fortitude and cheerfulness, and it occurred on his 46th birthday anniversary in the house in which he was born and has always lived. He was a member of the First Baptist church in Granville and is survived by his wife, three children and by his mother, widow of the late Henry Hobart. Funeral services will be conducted by Center Star Lodge, F. and A. M., No. 11, at the residence, Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Quite the most important and interesting of the many patriotic activities of the season was the lecture given in the auditorium of the Baptist church today at 11 o'clock by Lieut. Paul Perigord, the French officer who has taken part in all the important battles of this war from the Marne to the last most successful offensive around Verdun, and whose services as speaker before the student body and the Granville public were secured by President Chamberlain, as a member of the committee on Patriotic Education of the State Council of Defense. Lieut. Perigord possesses a magnetic personality and the great audience assembled to hear him was thrilled and impressed by his talk. Every American citizen should hear this address—not only as a means of informing himself from first-hand information but equally as a matter of privilege not often enjoyed in this community. Newark will hear him tonight in the High school auditorium.

The W. C. T. U. enjoyed an unusually fine program last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Norris. There was a large attendance and the topic was "Evangelism." Mrs. C. E. Ewart led the meeting and she called upon Mrs. William Howe for an appreciation of the work of Billy Sunday. Mrs. J. E. Conant also delivered a most interesting address.

Interesting letters have been received by Altamaha Lodge K. of P., No. 296, from several of the Granville soldier boys. Four of these letters were published in the last issue of the Granville Times from Ray L. Darwood, T. S. Reeling Ship, Philadelphia, Pa.; Bergecke, 570; George H. Jones, Camp Sherman, O.; H. D. Chandler, Camp Sheridan, Ala.; Arthur B. Conner, C. Battery, 134th Field Artillery, Camp Sheridan, Ala.

Pro. W. H. Johnson in a published article on "The War, Shall we be Optimists or Pessimists?" says: "In conclusion, there is no ground for a pessimistic attitude. It is within the power of the Allies, and it is their unalterable intention, to fight the thing through to an absolute and unmistakable success. Such being the case, there is a very positive advantage in maintaining a cheerful and optimistic attitude. It helps our boys who are going to the front, and they are entitled to all the help that we can give. Let us leave the hired tools of our enemies the ungracious task of spreading the spirit of discouragement and let us impart to our boys as they go, the helpful omen of an enthusiastic be-

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them. With our children its different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them. If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of California Syrup of Figs, which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

INTERESTED IN THE TRANSFER OF COLUMBUS LEASE

O. C. Jones, of this city, was interested in the selling of the eight-story building formerly occupied by the Green-Joyce company of Columbus, and the leasing of the site of the building to the Ohio Cities Gas company. Mr. Jones, with Frank B. Howell and Belle Bailey, owned the site of the building, and the Hamilton heirs owned the building, which was erected on a 99-year lease. The annual rental or lease-fee paid the site-owners is $13,000. The unexpired lease held by the Green-Joyce company has been turned over to the gas company, and the entire transfer involves $500,000. The building will be used as an office building by the gas company.

NOTES ON THRIFT STAMP CAMPAIGN

"Just before I leave the house every morning I hand my wife a dollar," said a professional man to the Licking County War Savings committee this morning. "This is for our Thrift Stamp fund. I have done it ever since the stamps were put on sale and shall continue until the close of 1918."

"I started a Thrift card in December," writes a young man connected with one of the public utilities of Newark, "and am making it a practice to save every dime that comes to me in change. This goes for Thrift stamps."

"I call this pocket my 'Thrift' pocket," says a well known school teacher. "Whenever I can spare a dime or a quarter or more I put it into that pocket and use the money in buying Thrift and War Savings stamps."

Postmaster Mercer received another big consignment of Thrift and War Savings stamps from Washington this morning, and in order not to run short again has telegraphed for additional supplies.

The First National bank reports sales of stamps the past week greatly in excess of previous records. The Kinkersville Savings Bank company has just been appointed agent to handle Thrift stamps at Kinkersville.

The organization of the Newark school children into Thrift clubs started today. Supt. Hawkins expects the Newark schools to save and invest in War Savings stamps at least $20,000 this year. It is expected that the country schools of the county will buy $40,000 worth of the War Savings stamps in 1918.

HEAR PERIGORD AT HIGH SCHOOL CHAPEL TONIGHT

Lieutenant Paul Perigord, who speaks at the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight, first came to this country as a Catholic priest to devote himself to missionary work in the northwest where his brother had preceded him several years earlier. His superiors, however, soon realized that his thorough education and extended culture would make him more valuable still as a teacher. He was therefore appointed professor of ethics in a large city in the west. The better to know American thought and character, he continued his post-graduate studies in the universities of Chicago, Columbia and Minnesota. The declaration of war found him putting the finishing touches on his doctor's thesis.

When the call of France went to all her children the world over, Perigord understood that this was to be a great fight for freedom. He immediately left for Europe. Lieutenant Perigord has taken part in all the important battles of this war, from the Marne to the last most successful offensive around Verdun. In each one of them he has been mentioned in general orders for distinguished service. Most seriously wounded in March, 1915, he returned to the front, having hardly recovered from his injuries. He has been gradually promoted until he was about to be made captain. He was in the trenches seven weeks ago. The order reached him to come to the United States, and he is here telling the American people about the great war. There is no admission charge to his lecture. Saturday night many people braved the below-zero weather to hear him in Columbus. Today he addressed the Denison University students. Tonight's address to which all are invited will be given under the auspices of the Rotary club. The Masonic-chorus will sing.

B. & O. ANNOUNCES SECOND EMBARGO ON ALL FREIGHT

Local B. & O. Freight Agent C. R. Potter received instructions today to accept no freight of whatever nature for shipment to any point from this city. This places a complete embargo on freight and not a pound can be shipped out of the city over the B. & O. lines until it is lifted. A similar order of a couple of weeks ago had been modified and freight shipments from this city to certain points had been accepted. The present embargo is caused by the recent severe cold weather, which has caused the congestion of freight along the entire B. & O. system.

HALF-SOLED HER SAVING BANK Shoemaker Finds Eight Hundred Dollars and Gems in Woman's Shoe —Gets Small Reward.

Business was good with Engle the shoemaker. Many persons had brought many shoes to his shop to be repaired, and his cash drawer was full of strange silver, says the Arizona Republican.

Came a boy early one morning bearing a pair of woman's shoes to be half-soled. The boy departed. Shortly afterward Engle picked up the woman's shoes. From the toe of one shoe fell a purse, fat and tightly closed. Before the shoemaker had recovered from his astonishment another purse fell from the toe of the other shoe. Two purses, both fat.

Engle opened the first fat purse. There was $300 in bills.

Then Engle turned to the second purse. From that one came flashing diamonds, necklaces, rings and earrings. More than $500 worth.

The shoemaker gathered up the bills and the diamonds and put them safely away and turned to his work. Counting the bills or admiring the diamonds wouldn't make money for Engle.

Then a frantic woman burst into the shoemaker's shop. No need for Engle to inquire what she wanted or why she was frantic. The shoemaker knew. The shoes belonged to her and so did the bills and diamonds and other gems. She had taken her safety deposit vault to the shoe shop.

Almost in hysterics the woman recovered her money and jewelry, more than $800 in all. She clasped the two purses to her and immediately a great relief spread over her. Placing 50 cents in the hands of Engle the shoemaker the woman left the shop. Engle turned to his shoe repairing.

STORMS AND FOREST TREES

Timber Most Firmly Rooted Will Endure Strain Better Than That of Strongest Wood.

It is always interesting to watch the effect of storms anywhere, but in the woods these effects are most varied and remarkable, says a writer. It frequently happens that a tornado or hurricane will follow a certain course and level only the trees in this line, often leaping from place to place. In such cases all trees in its swath suffer or are blown down; but where there is a general very high wind and all trees are hit with about the same force it may be noted that the best rooted ones and not those of the strongest wood survive.

Wind resistance of the whole tree has also something to do with the bending character of the trunk and branches, for where these give before the force of the storm they permit the wind to slide off. The hickory, above all, will not yield, and consequently receives the hardest strain against its entire top, whether full leaved or bare. It may be commonly noticed that in a mixed woodland, where a hard wind has driven, there are more hickories, down than any other trees.

His Apparent Yearn. "I expect to remain at least two weeks if your accommodations prove satisfactory," said the horse-faced gent. "I wish a room with southern and western exposure. I observe that the railroad runs within half a block of the hotel—you will kindly request the company to refrain from blowing their engine whistles in this vicinity. Persons in adjoining rooms should be cautioned about making unnecessary noises. I wish prompt service at meals, and am especially desirous of, having strictly fresh peanut butter, Eata-Bitta health food, distilled water, and—"

"Uh-huh!" nonchalantly returned the landlord of the Petunia Tavern. "What you want, podner, 'pears to be Outja board, not plain village board. Well, the—yaw-w-w-n!—house is full, and I can't accommodate you."—Kansas City Star.

No Crocuses in November. It should be a consolation to women who have passed thirty to remember that the most beautiful work of human hands—the Venus de Milo—is the statue of a mature woman, comments a writer. All the Venuses, in fact, are represented as mothers. There is not a young girl in the lot. Among the Greek statues only Psyche could qualify as a Broadway beauty, and even Psyche might appear a little plump and mature to the admirers of the human redbird.

Of course, every woman should fight ugliness to her last hour. She need not lose her beauty at any age. But one does not expect to pick snowdrops or crocuses from the fallen leaves of November, and it is just as futile to hope to look sixteen when you are forty.

The Beauty of Truth. Only that which has character is beautiful.

Character is the essential truth of any natural object, whether ugly or beautiful; it is even what one might call a double truth, for it is the inner truth translated by the outer truth; it is the soul, the feelings, the ideas, expressed by the features of a face, by the gestures, and actions of a human being, by the tones of a sky, by the life of a horizon.

Now, to the great artist, everything in nature has character; for the unswerving directions of his observation searches out the hidden meaning of all things.

There is nothing ugly in art except that which offers no outer or inner truth.—Rodin.

WARNING! BUY CLOTHES NOW

MANUFACTURERS' quotations for Fall 1918 are skyhigh. The woolen situation is growing more and more critical. Good clothes are becoming scarce and the man who buys now will make a wise and extremely profitable investment. Take Hermann's tip and take on an extra winter suit and overcoat.

ADVICE! BUY AT HERMANN'S

FORTUNATELY we have a tremendous stock of good smart ready-for-service clothes purchased long before prices soared to their present height. The saving plus the cash selling, is passed on to you. It raised Hermann's values far above the obtainable-elsewhere kind and makes your investment pay double dividends.

SPECIAL PENSIONS FOR NEWARK MEN

(Special to The Advocate)

Washington, Jan. 14.—Congressman Ashbrook has just secured the passage of six more special pension bills for Civil war soldiers of the seventeenth district, to wit:

Isaac B. Hawke, Newark, $30 per month; Andrew P. Grubaugh, Fredricktown, $30 per month; John Ervin, Mansfield, $30 per month; Chas. W. Webster, Sunbury, $36 per month; Daniel Felton, Coshocton, $40 per month; Geo. L. Wells, Newark, $40 per month.

Fatigue and Toxin.

The idea that fatigue is due to a specific toxin, as suggested by Weichart early in the century, has been a popular one, but the late investigation of Lee and Aronovitch at Columbia university shows it to have no good foundation. There is nothing, therefore, to encourage the hope that an antitoxin may be found. In the experiments made with animal muscles, a test muscle suspended in the juice of a fatigued muscle lost much in contractile power, but the juice of a non-fatigued muscle produced substantially the same effect.

Some people regard war as a tonic. In fact it seems to be Teutonic.

"A Small Leak"

"Will sink a great ship" said famous Ben Franklin in the days of our first great war.

This is a year of thrift and economy. Never was there greater need for stopping the small leaks.

A good way to stop the leaks in your money matters is to have a checking account here and pay all bills by check, thus keeping account of every penny of income and outgo.
